

Turn Your Network into Income with iSelfToken

You probably already know people with great business ideas or those interested in investing in innovation. What if each of those connections could become a source of recurring income? That's exactly what the iSelfToken consultant program offers.

In this presentation, you'll learn how to transform your online and offline network into a scalable and ethical income stream, connecting startups with investment opportunities and investors with purposeful projects.

Networking Is About Connecting, Not Selling

Authentic Connections

Build relationships based on genuine interest in helping others succeed, not just making sales.

Be the Bridge

Connect startups with investment opportunities and investors with purposeful projects.

Simplified Process

iSelfToken handles the complex parts. Your role is simply to facilitate the right connections.

Unlock your financial future

Practical Ways to Leverage Your Network

Entrepreneur Groups

Introduce the platform to startups looking to raise investment without traditional banking or venture capital constraints.

Potential Investors

Show friends interested in investing how they can begin with as little as R$200, making investment accessible to more people.

Idea Holders

Help people with great ideas create a fundraising page with you as their consultant, turning dormant concepts into viable projects.

Activating Your Network Effectively

Unlock your potential

Professional Announcement

Post on LinkedIn that you've become an iSelfToken affiliate consultant, establishing your new professional role in your network.

Educational Content

Record a short video explaining how startups can raise funds without traditional financing methods, positioning yourself as a knowledgeable resource.

Direct Outreach

Use WhatsApp to share links and explain the benefits of tokenization to specific contacts who might benefit most from this opportunity.

Personal Meetings

Invite people you've helped before for a quick chat about how tokenization could benefit their current projects or investment goals.

The Income Generation Model

The more connections you activate, the more conversion opportunities you create, leading to greater recurring income potential. This creates a sustainable business model based on value creation rather than one-time sales.

The Golden Approach: Value Over Persuasion

Show Value

Demonstrate clear benefits rather than pushing for sales

Spark Curiosity

Encourage questions and exploration of the platform

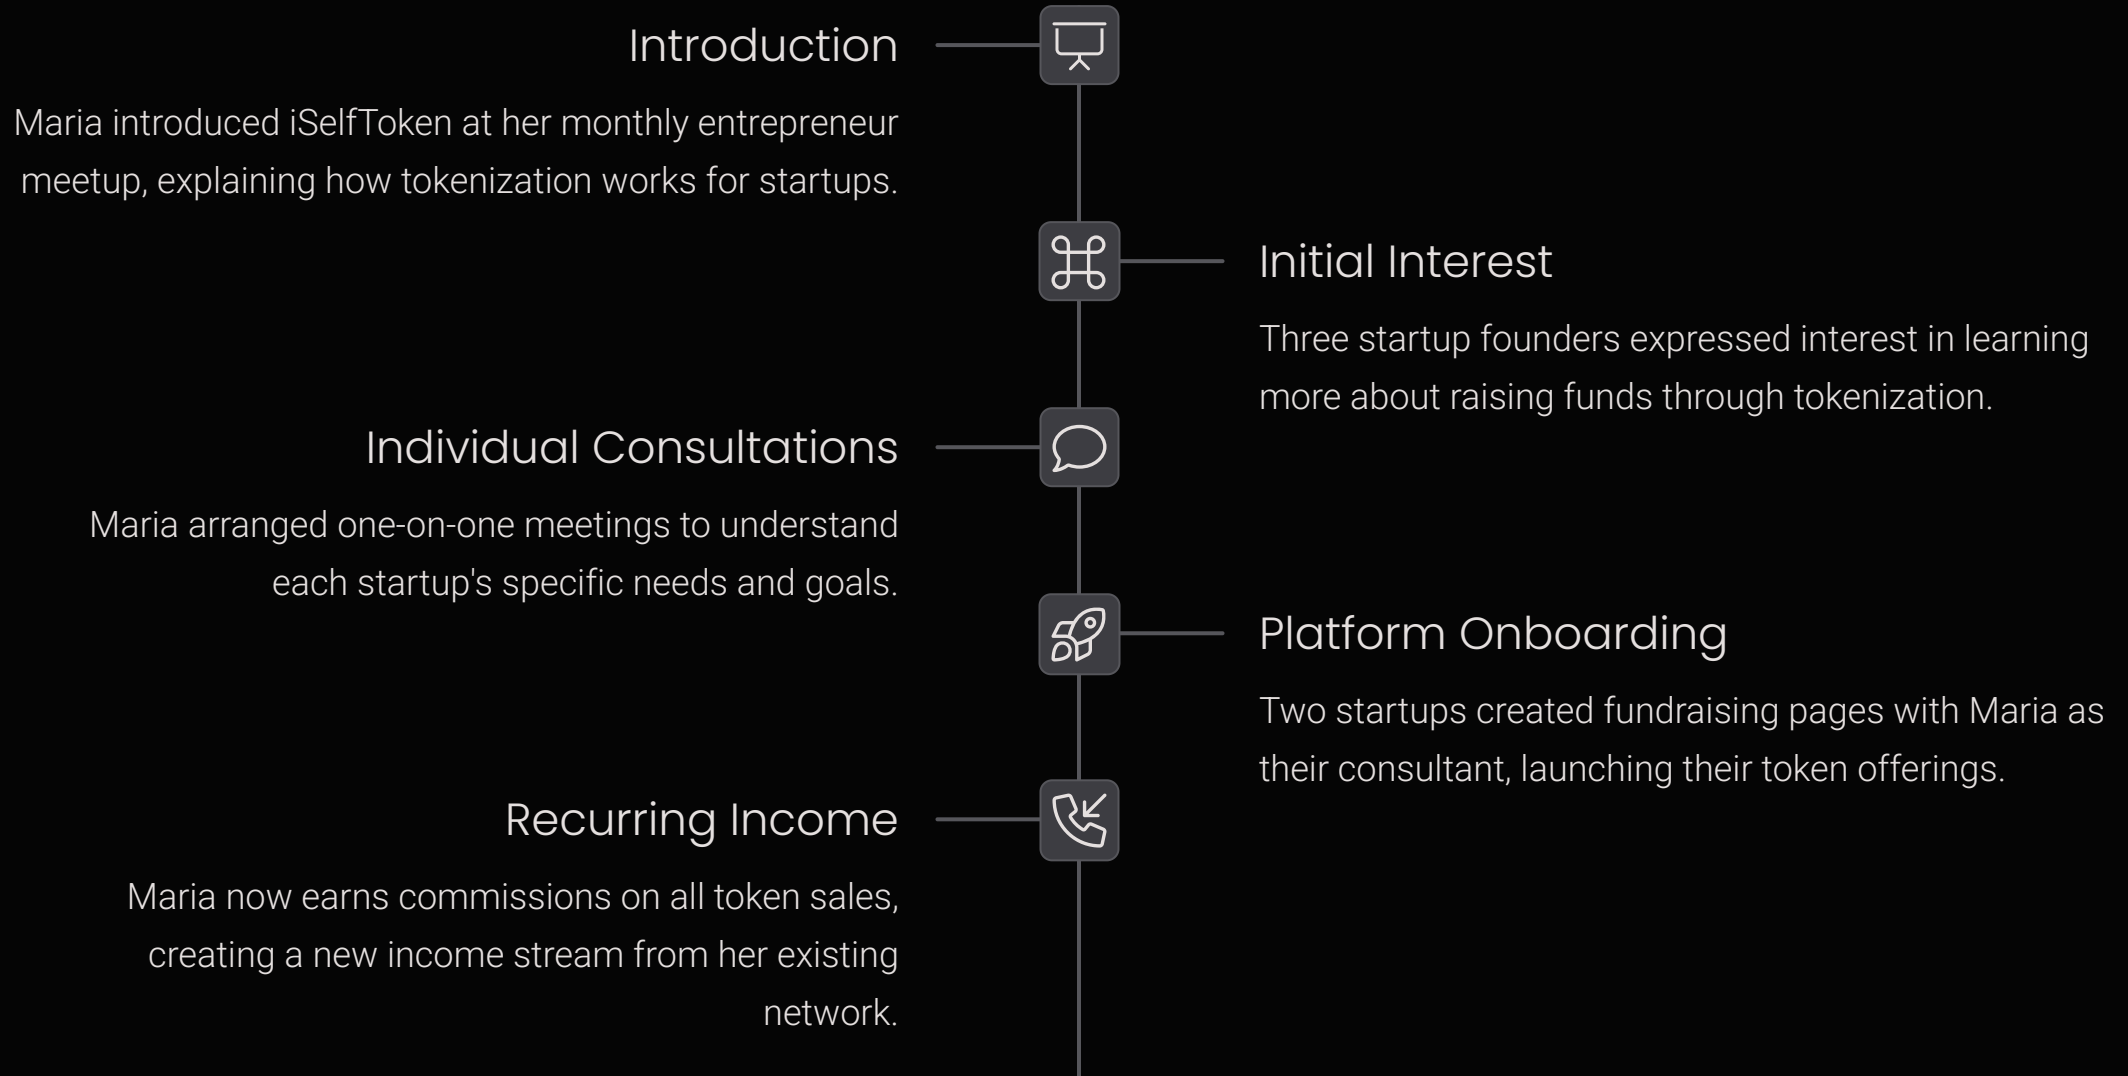

Be a Facilitator

Help connect the dots between needs and solutions

Don't try to convince anyone. When people feel understood and see genuine value in what you're offering, they naturally become interested. This approach builds trust and creates stronger, longer-lasting business relationships that benefit everyone involved.

Case Study: Entrepreneur Group Success

Case Study: Investor Connections

Coffee Chat

Carlos invited his friend who had mentioned wanting to invest but didn't know where to start for a casual coffee meeting.

Educational Approach

Instead of pitching, Carlos explained how tokenization works and how it makes investment accessible with as little as R$200.

Platform Demonstration

Carlos showed the iSelfToken platform on his tablet, highlighting the security features and investment opportunities.

Network Expansion

His friend not only invested but also introduced Carlos to three other potential investors in his network.

The Power of Digital Outreach

LinkedIn Announcements

Professional posts about your new role as an iSelfToken consultant can reach hundreds of connections instantly, establishing your credibility in this space.

Educational Videos

Short, informative videos explaining tokenization basics can be shared across multiple platforms, positioning you as a knowledgeable resource while reaching potential clients you might not have considered.

Direct Messaging

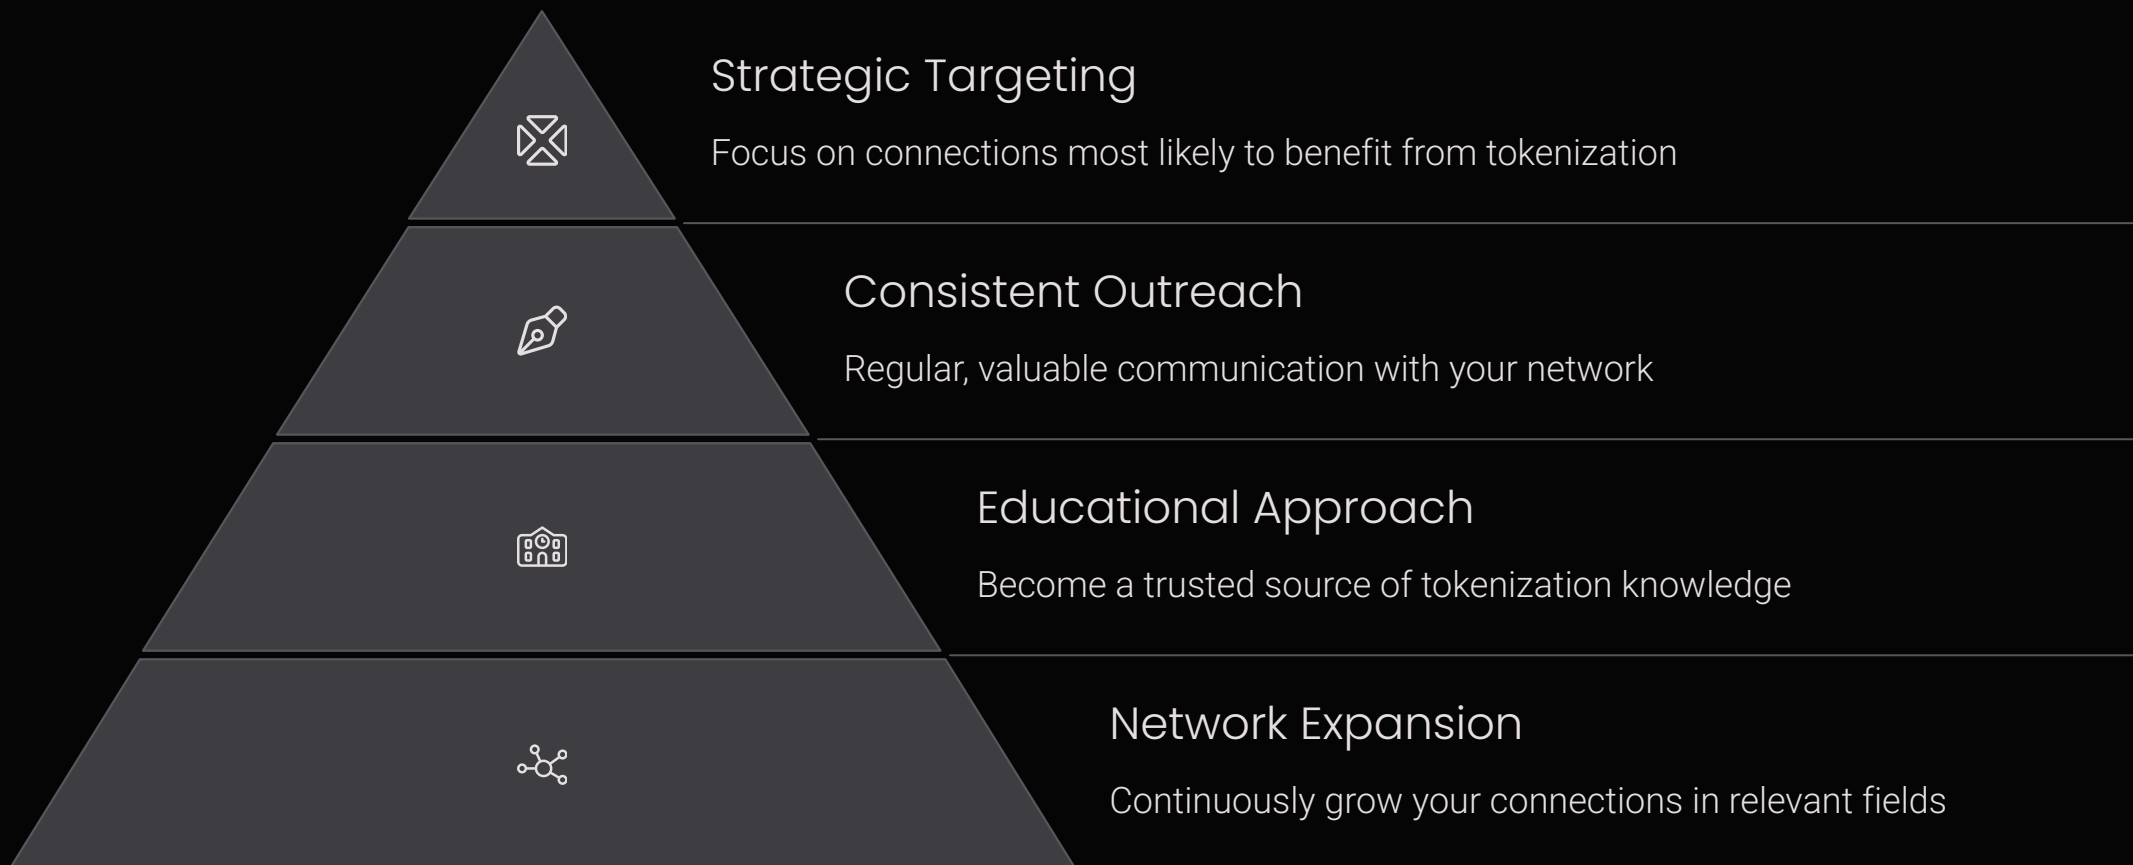

Personalized WhatsApp messages with relevant links allow for targeted outreach to specific contacts who would benefit most from tokenization, creating higher conversion rates.

Virtual Meetings

Scheduling quick virtual coffee chats to explain the platform creates a personal touch that builds trust and increases the likelihood of conversion.

Maximizing Your Commission Potential

For every token sold through your referrals, you earn a 2.5% direct commission. By implementing these strategies systematically, you can create multiple streams of recurring income from various parts of your network, maximizing your earning potential over time.
